944 spec - 2003 vs 2009 Posted by joepaluch - 27 Jan 2009 01:17

I just dug up some old results and found something interesting.

Here are the results from Jan 2003 as compared to Jan 2009.

Jan 2009

First off familiar names and nearly all the same cars still running.

Lap times Best of 1:15.2 vs 1:13.0 2 second change. An intersting not is that my 1:15.2 was set on the same springs, sway bars and shock type as I ran in 2009. I also was also on RA-1 for both. Also I ran the same alignment settings and had a fresh motor in 2003 and a fresh on in 2009.

Now look at the cars

Jan 2003 vs Today

- 94 Still owned by me
- 21 Chas's 924S is now Glenn #924 race car
- 51 Paul is still around and the car is racing in 944 spec in POC in So-Cal
- 09 Steve Sapareto still owns the car and is planning to run it again this seson
- 19 Now owned by Jim Richard and raced in January
- 44 Now owned by Austin Newmark and is white #47
- 76 Jon Ariano still runs the same car. (unfortunaly will miss this weekend due to business commitments)

Intersting as of the 7 cars on the list 6 are still actively being raced, 5 in Arizona, 1 in Californina and the 7th should be back in action some time this year.

Honestly guys I find it cool to look back all these years and see so many familar names and the same cars. It is crazy how lap times have changed from driver advances.
