

944 in SoCal

Posted by rhart - 27 Dec 2014 22:10

I am interested in 944 racing in SoCal and the videos I see show a pretty small field. If I buy a 944 Spec is it possible to race it in other classes during the weekend? If so what would that be? A few years ago I raced a SM in NorCal with 60 plus cars in the field. I'm used to a lot of cars around. Any advice for me.

Thanks in advance. I'm looking forward to racing something with more room in the cockpit.

What size are you?

I may have a suit for sale.

It will fit a 5'10"-6' driver.

I found it on Ebay last year but then my wife bought me a new OMP and then I won a suit at the Championships.

I'm 6'1" and skinny. So I need an XL for length and have room around the trunk to keep my pet rhino warm on cold days. I had a size 60 Sparco Light.

Thanks for sending

Yeah, this suit is barely long enough for me at 6' and 215 lbs.
