

new and looking for car

Posted by StoverDrive - 20 Nov 2011 14:44

all, my name is randy, i'm in Scottsdale, Az and i'm moving to cars from karts, i weigh 250 and just cant compete in karting so im looking for a well built turn key 944, i have a trailer and im willing to drive anywhere in Az and So. Ca to pick up the right car anyone in the phoenix area that is willing to help a newbie making the switch, please let me know, i realize that i dont know what i dont know, i jumped into karting two years ago the same way so i'm mentally prepared for the steep learning curve

i see there is a healthy field of cars that run at firebird and inde so im looking forward to meeting new friends, sharing a beer and making excuses for spins, wrecks and bad qualifying runs

Re: new and looking for car

Posted by joepaluch - 21 Nov 2011 06:30

Randy,

I am 944 spec director for Az.

Here is a link to some for sale cars.

944spec.org/944SPEC/forum/arizona/7002-a...sale-or-rent-listing

Check out Vince Vaccaro's car. Turn key race ready.

Drive is retiring from racing due to some medical issues.

That is the freshest one I know off the top of my head.

Shoot me your email joepaluch [at] qwest.net I can get you hooked up with any other cars for sale. I need to talk with my guys to make sure I have a good list.

Re: new and looking for car

Posted by Salanis42 - 28 Nov 2011 10:13

I'm in Sacramento, but have family in San Diego, so could meet you half way.

944spec.org/944SPEC/forum/for-sale-944-c...c-1988-924s-now-5500

You're heavier than me and will probably need a different seat.
