Looking for a winter project, was originally looking for another 951 to build but am considering venturing into the spec world. Looking for a car to build and to get my feet wet in the racing world.

ped and es not

What I am looking for is a 944 Spec project car. I am ideally looking for a car that is already strip caged with hopefully some suspension work already taken care of. Motor and trans, condition do matter, and I don't care if the car is ugly.
Anything like that in the Northeast region?
Thanks,
Will

Actually already picked up a car!
Thanks for the interest however.

I would like to bump this thread up again. I bought a car, life didn't work out the way I planned (does it ever?), and I sold it off.

Criteria is the same, please feel free to e-mail me as well at
