

2016 Schedule near the Texas region

Posted by Timwold - 06 Nov 2015 13:03

PCA has published the first version of the 2016 schedule. I have posted the events near the Texas region in the Texas forum.

If there is Memphis date which does not conflict I was thinking about making the tow from Dallas. MapQuest shows it to be just over 7 hours. In return I would hope some of the Mid South would make the Hallett race in October. We typically have 10 or so SP1 cars at Hallett so with some folks from the Mid South we could push into the teens.

It would be great to see if we can get some cross series races in 2016.

Re: 2016 Schedule near the Texas region

Posted by FDJeremy - 07 Nov 2015 09:10

We should have several Nasa events at Mir next year. I don't think the local pca actually does any racing and tech is kinda a hassle for us. We would love to have you guys come race with us during one of the nasa races and I know there are a few guys that would love to come race hallet with your crew, myself included.
