

Anyone attending the races have a spare TT?

Posted by LM951S - 23 Aug 2010 01:53

Hey,

New guy here coming from RL/RW and was wondering if anyone can help me out. I live in Tooele right by Miller and was hoping someone had a good condition torque tube that the might be willing to sell/bring to the track. Mine decided to die and most of the rebuilt options are a little out of my price range at the moment. If anyone can, that would be great! I can meet at the track to pick up, and I plan on attending to watch the races.

Thanks,

Darwin

PS - the car is an 88 951S

A NA torque tube will fit an 88 Turbo S just fine for those wondering.

I have a spare tube from an 88na 944. I will be happy to sell it and can bring it to Miller.

I have NO idea what a fair price is. Can folks give us some ideas.
