i am trying to find the high compression pistons/88 motor setup for a new 944spec i am putting together. they do seem hard to come by. what i did come across was brand new exact replacement mahle pistons. are these legal for spec since they are same as stock? anyone have any experience with these?

Wow Bruce, what a great resource!!

Were you noting the side clearance of the rings? One is shown 0.0004 bigger than the other.

There probably isn't a caliper that is accurate enough to see less than half a thousandth of an inch.

Amazing tolerances!
