

Turbo oil filter housing to NA motor..

Posted by Vintagercr - 20 May 2018 06:10

Will be starting out running an early ('83) motor and I have a turbo oil filter housing I was hoping to put to use, was wondering what mods will be necessary to mount the unit if at all possible. Is there a different OPV needed?

Thanks in advance!

The 951 oil cooler console can be used with any year, but the block determines which OPRV you can use. Early blocks have a steel sleeve so you can only use the 3 piece style or the early 1-piece. Late 1-piece is for blocks without the steel sleeve (~87).
