

Proposed 2010 Rules

Posted by Big Dog - 29 May 2009 11:41

The rule setting period for 2010 will soon be on us all.

I would like to propose that we all start posting ideas for 2010 rule changes here in separate threads for each rule.

That way, we can cuss and discuss them, offer changes and alternatives to a proposal and, as we get closer to the rule setting time, we can organize polls for the various proposals so that our voices are heard.

Thanks all.

Jim,

Thanks for starting this. We can discuss and even take straw polls. However the rules are not up for a vote. They never have been and never will be. They are open for debate, discussion and we will accept driver input as a factor, but we will never use a simple up down vote to determine what rules will be.

so does this mean there is not going to be a vote about adding 100 lbs to all red 944s?
