

Meet me at Road Atlanta!

Posted by Sterling Doc - 26 Feb 2013 14:37

Who's in for the Road Atlanta event?

I've been watching all the build parties at the Chicken Shack and enthusiasm for the class down there, and am coming down to pay you guys a visit. Let's talk about building the class, going fast, and having fun! Besides, I've got a track record to defend! I will be bringing my Traqmate down, and will be happy to share data as well.

Let's start a roll call here:

1. Eric
2. Michael
3. Brian
4. Jason
5. Duffy - making his race debut!
6. Victor

=====

Re: Meet me at Road Atlanta!

Posted by JUSTMERACING - 28 Feb 2013 12:50

Brian,

I need you to get the guys ready for Annual Techs. I will have all the paperwork ready but I need you to make sure that you, Jason and R.J. bring your Log books to the track. Victor and the Duffman will get new Logs since their cars have never been in the system. We should still have Taters number stamping tools at the Shack. I will bring them with me to ID the cages.

Thanks

=====

Re: Meet me at Road Atlanta!

Posted by Sterling Doc - 03 Mar 2013 07:14

This sounds great guys! In the Toyo bucks, and growing! I can't wait to come out and meet all you guys!

=====

Re: Meet me at Road Atlanta!

Posted by vpk944 - 05 Mar 2013 13:14

Don't expect much out of me, I claim last place. I will have fully functioning lights, heat, a/c, and tunes. I can also pass emissions if need be. Car does has all safety equipment and a stock 83 engine. I hoping to get into the 1.52's. My only hope is rain and that doesn't look likely this weekend. Will still be fun. If the car breaks down I will run my 92 Corvette as a spec944 (they have the same basic shape) and shatter the track record (probably 1.39's). Take that Eric. I have a few days left, can I install my euro engine with the thicker head gasket (should drop it to 10.5 CR)? Just a thought.

=====

Re: Meet me at Road Atlanta!

Posted by ALBERMA - 05 Mar 2013 18:13

I am gong to try....been working on the 944 I got from Brian for months. New Cage, Dash rework, seat mounts, seats, inside strip and paint (sorry I am a neat freak). Should have it ready for a test weekend planned at VIR next weekend. I'll be at the track with you guys before you know it.

Macon

=====

Re: Meet me at Road Atlanta!

Posted by Brian Evans - 06 Mar 2013 14:02

ALBERMA wrote:

I am gong to try....been working on the 944 I got from Brian for months. New Cage, Dash rework, seat mounts, seats, inside strip and paint (sorry I am a neat freak). Should have it ready for a test weekend planned at VIR next weekend. I'll be at the track with you guys before you know it.

Macon

Great to hear from you Macon! Can't wait to see the car- did you keep the outside paint the same?

Eric- anyone else from your neck of the woods going to make it down? Weekend should be sunny with highs in the mid-60s... a nice change from what you guys are dealing with now!

=====

Re: Meet me at Road Atlanta!

Posted by Sterling Doc - 06 Mar 2013 16:09

I am packing up to leave tomorrow. Unfortunately, I am the only one who got my car done (and just barely). Lot's of interest in going, but didn't get everyone in gear soon enough.

I just got the new graphics on. Since the car didn't need much mechanically this offseason, I worked on the cosmetics - looks very cool, and can't wait to have it out.

-Eric

=====