

Purpose for Troubleshooting Forum

Posted by joepaluch - 28 Jan 2011 05:37

The purpose of this forum is to do two things.

- 1) Provided first hand solutions to common 944 probelmes. The intent is to use the combined expereince of all the racers to help resolve nagging issues on our cars. So if you have had a certain problem post the on track problem and then your solution. It may not work for everyone, but chances are it will help.
- 2) Second purpose is to be a place ask questions. So if you have a nagging issue and don't have a solution look here first for a solution and if you don't see one post the problem. If you get help here to solve it great, if you solve it outside the forum please post your resolution to that you may help others.

Remember out cars are getting old and quick troubleshooting of issues is the best way to keep our competitors and friends at the track and racing.
